

Teaching British Values at Peak School:

At Peak School we promote the fundamental British values of democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty, and mutual respect and tolerance towards those with different faiths and beliefs.

At Peak School we believe;	This is promoted through;
That all pupils should feel safe, cared for, comfortable and supported.	The school employing a staff team who build good relationships with the pupils and who are trained and supported by rigorous procedures for safeguarding.
That all pupils should be supported to reach their potential in all aspects of their lives delivered through the unique PEAK Curriculum.	The school emphasis on employing staff who are highly qualified and trained. Each pupil accesses a curriculum that is tailored to meet their needs. The school works with parents to set joint priorities for learning.
That all pupils should be included in all aspects of the school and wider community.	The school promoting learning outside of the classroom. All pupils engage in joint learning experiences within school and opportunities to practise their skills in the wider community.
That all pupils should be tolerant and understanding of the diverse world that they live in.	Actively involving pupils in community activities that develop their awareness and tolerance of others. This includes learning about different faiths and beliefs through assemblies and visiting a wide range of locations with different cultural significances.
That all pupils should be helped to have friends, behave appropriately, work hard and succeed.	The school promoting positive interactions between pupils and with staff - children feel happy to come to school and are encouraged to behave appropriately with help and support for those who find this difficult. Hard work and achievement are celebrated in many ways in order to ensure that all can feel proud of their achievements.
